

*Dr. DiSaia and Dr. Creasman received
The Bristol-Myers Squibb/IGCS
“Award for Excellence in Gynecologic Oncology”*

Dr. Philip J. DiSaia, professor of gynecologic oncology and Dorothy J. Marsh Chair in Reproductive Biology was recently awarded the Bristol-Myers Squibb/IGCS “Award for Excellence in Gynecologic Oncology” for his exemplary leadership in cancer research, treatment, education and patient care. Presented by the International Gynecologic Cancer Society, Dr. Philip J. DiSaia and Dr. William T. Creasman were unanimously chosen to share the award in 2004. He received the award Oct. 4th during the 10th Biennial IGCS meeting in Edinburgh, Scotland. Dr. DiSaia is most renowned for his research in tumor markers and immuno-therapy, as well as the work he has carried out with Dr. Creasman, in hormone replacement therapy especially among cancer survivors. Praised for his intelligence, honesty and kindness, Dr. DiSaia is committed to working toward the cure of cancers affecting women.
