

GOG FOUNDATION NEW INVESTIGATOR AWARD in Collaboration with NRG Oncology and the Society for Gynecologic Oncology (Submission deadline: March 29, 2019)

The GOG Foundation's newly restructured Education/Mentoring Committee in collaboration with the NRG Oncology New Investigator Committee and the Society of Gynecologic Oncology (SGO) is seeking applications for a three-year GOG Foundation New Investigator Award. The purpose of this award is to identify New Investigators with an interest in clinical trials in gynecologic cancers who wish to become more engaged with the GOG Foundation and NRG Oncology and to learn more about the gynecologic cancer clinical trial development process. It is anticipated that New Investigators might pursue a GOG-Foundation Scholar Investigator Award at the time of future requests for applications of that award. Details of this award are as follows.

Eligibility Criteria

1. Physicians or scientists with a terminal degree (MD, DO, PhD) who are in the last two years of fellowship or postdoctoral training or within 10 years following completion of fellowship or postdoctoral training are eligible.
2. All eligible applicants should have practice and/or research focus in gynecologic cancer.

Obligations and Funding

Selected GOG Foundation New Investigators will be:

1. Expected to attend the semiannual NRG Oncology meetings from the summer of 2019 through the winter of 2022. A stipend of $1500 will be provided to support registration, travel and hotel expenses for each meeting.
2. Expected to attend GOG-Foundation sponsored Symposiums held during required NRG Oncology semiannual meetings. Symposium registration fees will be waived.
3. Expected to attend NRG Oncology New Investigator Committee meetings and NRG Oncology sponsored New Investigator Training Forums during required NRG Oncology semiannual meetings. Application for membership to the NRG Oncology New Investigator Committee is expected. There are no fees other than meeting registration associated with these activities.
4. Expected to attend a multiyear Basics of Clinical Trials Workshop during the 2020 -2022 SGO Annual Meeting on Women's Cancer. Registration fees for these Workshops will be waived.
5. Seek out opportunities to participate in ancillary studies within NRG Oncology Gynecologic Committee and GOG Partners.
6. Required to submit an annual progress report including a final report. Continuation of the award will be based upon extent to which obligations were made in the prior year.
