Advisory Board Overview

The GOG Foundation, Inc. provides the opportunity to act as your vendor and facilitate advisory board meetings on your company’s behalf. Advisory boards are an integral step to identify and provide guidance to further develop therapeutics and development of specific agents. The GOG Foundation, Inc. and GOG Partners offers a service by providing expert physician engagement to further assist with the development of ideas and concepts. We allow you to select the group of thought leaders in all areas of gynecologic oncology and guide the conversation specific to your unique needs and objectives. Our physician advisors will provide guidance for clinical development as well as help your company better understand knowledge gaps, insights, and the current landscape. We will collaborate with you from the onset of our first conversation, to when you decide to host an advisory board.

Our success comes from providing not only experts, but individuals passionate about what they do to help care for women with gynecologic malignancies.

It is important to us that we...

Understand your objectives...clear objectives and an initial understanding of your company goals is an important starting point. Throughout the advisory board process, the goals and objectives can change, but we value having an initial understanding of what you want to accomplish.

Allow you to select your key opinion leaders... that have passion for your ideas. We want you to have the capability to select the expert advisors that will offer valuable guidance and insight to assist with further development. Our advisory board pricing includes as many key expert leaders (KOLs) you require to meet your advisory board objectives. All advisory boards can be tailored to meet your needs, expectations, and fiscal capabilities.

Strategize... Whether your goal is to aggressively meet timelines for regulatory approval or consult on how to best develop and expand sales and marketing strategies, our expert leaders can help maximize opportunities regardless of where you are in your product development cycle. We also have capabilities that include, but not limited to input on clinical trial endpoints, statistical designs, combination strategies, and FDA interactions.

Follow an agenda that is action oriented... the physician leadership you select and the moderator you choose are two important keys in planning and executing a successful meeting. We can help drive a focused process and meeting that provides results and information to guide next steps.

Deliver feedback rooted in science and data...our physician engagement provides not just opinions on your topic of discussion. Our expert physician advisors come to your meeting prepared to share critical and relevant scientific data to help set the stage for the proper discussion. Furthermore, many of these physicians have extensive experience in the nuances of clinical trial design, statistical analysis plan development, and regulatory approval strategies in gynecologic malignancies.

Provide guidance on what to do next...after your meeting has completed, our team will provide follow up and offer opportunities for continued partnership and possible subsequent action. Whether your next move is to collaborate on a clinical trial, or engage on an additional advisory board, we have options to provide guidance and leadership. The team of selected advisors will help address both short- and longer-term needs while leveraging discovery to help create greater efficiency and value with your clinical development.
Handle the majority of the logistics... to allow you to focus on the science and integral discussion. Our logistic experts will work with your organization to assist with the meeting details. In face-to-face meetings, we will coordinate/direct the KOLs contracts & regulatory requirements, their travel & hotel, the meeting space, meeting materials, AV, and food/beverage. To assure compliance with internal security measures we will ask that all streaming virtual video/auditory services are coordinated by your company.
