

INDUSTRY SUPPORTED SYMPOSIA (ISS)

RULES & GUIDELINES

The GOG Foundation, Inc. (GOG-F) and IGCS are pleased to continue a strategic partnership whereby the GOG-F collaborates with the IGCS to manage the Industry Supported Symposia (ISS) at the IGCS 2026 Annual Global Meeting in Montreal, Canada, October 1–3, 2026. Our collaboration allows us to bring the most relevant topics for symposia each year and the optimal delivery method that complements the abstracts and education delivered by the IGCS Program Committee.

We are accepting applications for ISS programs: submit your application here. Note that availability is limited and is offered on a first-come, first-served basis. Please submit your application as soon as possible as requests are filled and scheduled in the order they are received, which includes a deposit.

OVERVIEW OF INDUSTRY SUPPORTED SYMPOSIA

- All symposia are held within the congress venue.
- There are two options for symposia:
 - Option 1: A 70-minute lunchtime slot will be provided. Exact timing subject to change. It is required to be a Platinum Supporter at the Annual Global Meeting which will include the cost of the ISS. (The cost of the ISS rental fee of $70,000 will be applied towards your Platinum Supporter sponsorship amount.)
 - Option 2: A 45-minute breakfast time slot during the morning times of the meetings will be provided. It is required to be a Gold Supporter at the Annual Global Meeting which will include the cost of the ISS. (The cost of the ISS rental fee of $45,000 will be applied towards your Gold Supporter sponsorship amount.)
- Note that there are several requirements to work through the GOG and details will be shared via a customized proposal. You have the opportunity of working with your own agency specific to content development; alternatively, the GOG Foundation would be pleased to develop the content of the program.
 - If you opt to work with the GOG on your content development, our team will provide a detailed proposal to manage your company's education. All content development will be done by ACCME standards.
